OPERATION

PICK AND PACK.

How we pack and pack

Pick & Pack from Warehousing & Fulfillment uses the latest Warehouse Management System, and operates according to our SOP (Standard Operation Procedures). The Pick & Pack process begins with a computer-generated pick ticket that provides instructions to the warehouse. The pick ticket delivers items to be picked, stages and shipping information to the distribution center, including any special handling, labeling or other customer-specific requirements.

OPERATION.

CROSS DOCKING DC.

What is the system of our cross docking DC ?

It enables the timely distribution of freight and a better synchronization of the supply with the demand. It is particularly for companies in the retail sector In a conventional distribution logistics system, goods are stored in a distribution center or in a factory, and held until ordered by a customer. With cross-docking, goods are assign to a customer beforehand The distribution center receives goods from suppliers and sorts them to be shipped directly, in a consolidated batch, to the final destination. Inbound flows (from suppliers) are thus directly transferred to outbound flows (to customers) saving time and resources. Shipments typically spend less hours in the distribution center, 24 then sometimes less than one hour

02

FASTER FLOW

Reduced handling time, faster delivery

DIRECT TRANSFER

Goods move directly from inbound to outbound

COST EFFICIENT

Lower storage & operating costs

BETTER SYNC

Improved supply & demand synchronization

IMPROVED SERVICE

Higher efficiency, better customer satisfaction

OPERATION.

INVENTORY CONTROL.

What about our inventory control

Accurate management of our clients' inventories is our utmost priority. Our expert Inventory Control personnel perform regular cycle counts using an industry tested process and procedure, ensuring that our clients' inventories are accurately and accounted for.

ACCURATE COUNTS

Regular cycle counts for accurate inventory records

TESTED PROCESS

Industry tested process and procedures

REAL-TIME VISIBILITY

Up-to-date inventory visibility and reporting

REDUCED ERRORS

Minimize discrepancies and stock variances

OPTIMIZED INVENTORY

Better planning, lower costs and improved service
